'America First' Goal of Senior Girl Scout Troop

Four months from now members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 1299 will dine in style at a famous restaurant in New Orleans. The Scout troop, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women of Torrance, have planned a bang-up tour of the United States this summer. Out-to see America first, the girls will charter a Greyhound bus for the 24-day trip which will take them more than 7639 miles. Highlights of the tour will include a visit to the Carlsbad Caverns, sightseeing in Washington, D.C., a swim at a New Jersey beach resort and a tour of the U.N. With their departure date set for July 23, the girls are busy with money making projects to cover their expenses. Rummage sales, paper drives, doughnut sales and fashion shows have been planned. On April 29 the girls will model fashions from Moore's and Nita's Tots and Teens at the Civic Auditorium. Funds from the fashion show will go toward the vacation trip.

BITTEN BY THE TRAVEL BUG—Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 1299 from left: Ginny Krauser, Susan Hammack and Marsha Hunt, map out a 24 day trip for this summer that will take them all over the United States. The girls will leave by chartered bus July 23. Now when not poring over a map they are busy with fund raising projects for the trip.
